No Overdrafts After Feb. 1st.

The banks here and elsewhere are publishing notice that no overdrafts will be permitted on and after February 1st, the new banking law making the time-honored custom prohibitory. This may inconvenience some, but it is a good law and should be observed. Why should a man borrow from an institution run for profit and a convenience as well without paying interest. There is neither reason nor justice in it and it is strange to us that the overdrafting habit has not had a halt called long before this. The writer has seen the overdraft of one of the Stanford banks as great as $15,000—nearly a sixth of the capital stock and worth $900 a year at the legal rate of six per cent. Do you know of any other institution, as clever, or do you know a friend who would be so generous with his gold? Certainly you do not. Bankers handle other people's money and they really have no right to let it out without recompense or the promise of it. Habitual overdrawing is not far removed from "cold" check giving, which habit is about the most pernicious in the category. Let the bankers stick to the law and their declaration and the institutions they represent and the people as well will be the better off.

Nation-wide Prohibition Beaten

Just before adjourning for the Christmas holidays last week lower House of Congress defeated the constitutional amendment for nation-wide prohibition. The proposition received a majority vote of 197 to 189 but required a two-thirds majority. Congressman Harvey Helm, of this district, voted in favor of nation-wide prohibition, as did Congressmen Barkley, Thomas, Johnson, Fields, Langley and Powers. The Kentucky congressmen who opposed it were Stanley, Castrill, Rouse and Sherry. It will be recalled that Stanley, then a candidate for U. S. senator voted against that other temperance measure the Webb-Kenyon bill, declaring that he did so because he believed it unconstitutional. We just pause to wonder if his vote against nation-wide prohibition was cast for the same reason?

Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Newman this week announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. Mr. Newman has made a fine record at the head of the farmers' department of the state government. He has especially been in the limelight during the foot and mouth quarantine. Newman is the first candidate to mention state-wide prohibition in his announcement. He says he favors the submission of the question to the vote of the people. Newman is the third candidate to announce. The more the merrier. The I. J.'s advertising columns are open to them all.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years'
Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, nervousness, sideache, sleeplessness, or are you just getting tired feeling?

If so, let us give you Cardui a trial. We feel sure it will help you, just as it has helped so many women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui today. You won't regret it.

Write to: Chas. H. Smith & Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., 111 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. for Special Instructions on your own bottle of Cardui. "Home Treatment for Women" is free. N. C. 194

A Trial Will Convince Anyone—
The Great Kidney Remedy
Never Disappoints

A few years ago I was troubled with a complication of kidney and stomach ailments and although I tried two or three different doctors, I was unable to obtain a cure. Having heard a great deal about Swamp-Root, I decided to give it a trial and purchased a one-dollar bottle of Mr. Alexander, the druggist. From the beginning I could notice a change for the better and after taking eight bottles of your medicine, I felt entirely cured and have not had any trouble since.

Had I begun using Swamp-Root sooner, I would have been a few hundred dollars to the good and saved myself a lot of suffering.

You may use my testimonial any time you wish. Yours very truly,

CHARLES E. HARRIS.
